Chapter 1. Abstract

The NVIDIA® DGX™ servers come with a DGX OS software image. This base operating system on NVIDIA® DGX™ servers allows customers to use their own on-site scheduling and management software to run GPU-accelerated applications within Docker containers provided by NVIDIA as well as within customized Docker containers.
Chapter 2. DGX OS Server Releases and Versioning

This information helps you understand the DGX OS Server release numbering convention and your options to upgrade your DGX OS Server software.

DGX OS Server Releases

DGX OS is a customized Linux distribution that is based on Ubuntu Linux. It includes platform-specific configurations, diagnostic and monitoring tools, and the drivers that are required to provide the stable, tested, and supported OS to run AI, machine learning, and analytics applications on DGX systems.

DGX OS is typically released twice a year and is often aligned with major feature enhancements of the components and new hardware introductions.

Release Versions

The DGX OS release numbering convention is MAJOR.MINOR, and it defines the following types of releases:

- Major releases are typically based on Ubuntu releases, which include new kernel versions and new features that are not always backwards compatible.

  For example:
  - DGX OS 5.x releases are based on Ubuntu 20.04.
  - DGX OS 4.x is based on Ubuntu 18.04.

- Minor releases include mostly new NVIDIA features and accumulated bug fixes and security updates.

  These releases are incremental and always include all previous software changes.

  - In DGX OS 4 and earlier, minor releases were also typically aligned with NVIDIA Graphics Drivers for Linux releases.
  - In DGX OS 5, you now have the option to install newer NVIDIA Graphic Drivers independently of the DGX OS release.
DGX OS Release Mechanisms

This section provides information about the DGX OS release mechanisms that are available to install or upgrade to the latest version of the DGX OS.

The ISO Image

DGX OS is released as an ISO image that includes the necessary packages and an autonomous installer. Updated versions of the ISO image are also released that:

- Provide bug fixes and security mitigations.
- Improve the installation experience.
- Provide hardware configuration support.

You should always use the latest ISO image, except when you need to restore the system to an earlier version.

WARNING: This image allows you to install or reimage a DGX system to restore the system to a default state, but the process erases all of the changes that you applied to the OS.

The Linux Software Repositories

Upgrades to DGX OS are provided through the software repositories. Software repositories are storage locations from which your system retrieves and installs OS updates and applications. The repositories used by DGX OS are hosted by Canonical for the Ubuntu OS and NVIDIA for DGX specific software and other NVIDIA software. Each repository is a collection of software packages that are intended to install additional software and to update the software on DGX systems.

New versions of these packages, which contain bug fixes and security updates, provide an update to DGX OS releases. The repositories are also updated to include hardware enablement, which might add support for a new system or a new hardware component, such as a network card or disk drive. This update does not affect existing hardware configurations.

System upgrades are cumulative, which means that your systems will always receive the latest version of all of the updated software components.

Important: We recommend that you do not update only individual components.

Before you update a system, refer to the DGX OS Software Release Notes for a list of the available updates. For more information on displaying available updates and upgrade instructions, refer to the DGX OS 5 User Guide.
Chapter 3. Current NVIDIA DGX OS Server Software

This section lists the NVIDIA® DGX™ OS Server software images and updates that have been released for the NVIDIA DGX-1, DGX-2, and DGX A100 systems. To determine the version of the DGX OS Server software on your system, enter the following command.

```
$ grep VERSION /etc/dgx-release

This will show the version installed on the system from the ISO image (DGX_SWBUILD_VERSION) as well as any subsequent updates performed on the system (DGX_OTA_VERSION). The latest version listed is the currently installed version.

For DGX OS 5, the DGX_OTA_VERSION field indicates the latest ISO version that was released. Consult the release notes to determine which additional upgrades were made prior to the date indicated in the DGX_OTA_DATE field.

Release 5.0 (All DGX systems)

ATTENTION: Beginning with DGX OS 5, there are no longer separate DGX OS Server and DGX OS Desktop releases. Instead, one release now includes the software for the DGX server and workstation products. Refer to the DGX OS Release Notes [http://docs.nvidia.com/dgx/dgx-os-release-notes/index.html] for the unified release notes.
