3. On the NVIDIA APPLICATION HUB page that opens, click NVIDIA LICENSING PORTAL.

The NVIDIA Licensing Portal dashboard page opens.

Your entitlement might not appear on the NVIDIA Licensing Portal dashboard page until 24 business hours after you set your password during the initial registration process.

4. In the left navigation pane of the NVIDIA Licensing Portal dashboard, click SOFTWARE DOWNLOADS.
5. On the Product Download page that opens, follow the Download link for the release, platform, version and package type of NVIDIA software that you wish to use, for example, NVIDIA HPC SDK for Linux/x86-64 RPM version 23.9.

If you don't see the release of NVIDIA HPC SDK or PGI software that you wish to use, click ALL AVAILABLE to see a list of all NVIDIA HPC SDK and PGI software available for download. The “Product” box can be used to select only HPC SDK (“HPC”) or PGI. Use the drop-down lists or the search box to further filter the software listed.

For PGI software, the following archive versions are available:

Linux x86-64: 10.2 to 20.4

Linux OpenPOWER: 16.1 to 20.4

Windows: 18.10 to 20.4 (command line only)

The last PGI release was version 20.4. Product descriptions may not match those on the legacy PGI website, but provided packages contain the most features available. Some older versions of PGI are no longer available to new customers and are not provided here.

6. When prompted to accept the license for the software that you are downloading, click AGREE & DOWNLOAD.
7. When the browser asks what it should do with the file, select the option to save the file.
8. For PGI software only, you will also need to download a License Key. This is not required for HPC SDK software.
 1. Navigate to the SOFTWARE DOWNLOADS page as described in step 4 above
 2. Search for “PGI License Key” and download the License File for your platform. This is a text file that contains instructions for use. Open with any text editor.
 3. Save this file for use after installing the PGI software as described in the next section.

2.2. Installing Your NVIDIA HPC SDK or PGI Software

1. HPC SDK Software

1. Install per the instructions in the Installation Guide for your version available at <https://docs.nvidia.com/hpc-sdk/>.
2. There are no License Files or License Servers to setup for the HPC SDK

2. PGI Software

1. Install per the instructions in the Installation Guide for your version available at <https://docs.nvidia.com/hpc-sdk/pgi-compilers/>, skipping any steps regarding installation of License Files or License Servers.
2. After installation is complete, follow the instructions included within the License File from step 8 in section 2.1 above. This typically involves renaming the License File to “license.dat” for x86 platforms or “license.pgi” for OpenPOWER, and placing it in the top level PGI installation directory, e.g., /opt/pgi, replacing any existing License File that may already exist.
