For SOFTWARE versions that are not "Pre-Release" versions as defined in Section 2C below, You may exercise the distribution license grant above subject to all of the following:

(i) The terms under which you distribute Your End-User Application must be consistent with the terms of this SLA, including (without limitation) terms relating to the license grant and license restrictions and protection of NVIDIA's intellectual property rights,
You may identify NVIDIA as the SOFTWARE licensor or as having NVIDIA Target System compatibility, where appropriate, provided that You shall not otherwise use NVIDIA's name or trademarks to market, endorse, or promote any End-User Application without prior written permission from NVIDIA,

SOFTWARE versions identified as alpha, beta, preview, "early access", or otherwise as "Pre-Release", may not be fully functional, may contain errors or design flaws, and may have reduced or different security, privacy, accessibility, availability, and reliability standards relative to commercial versions of NVIDIA software and materials. Use of a Pre-Release version may result in unexpected results, loss of data, project delays or other unpredictable damage or loss.

You may use a Pre-Release version internally, at Your own risk, understanding that Pre-Release versions are not intended for distribution or for use in production or business-critical systems.

Only You may use an application compiled with a Pre-Release version. You do not have any rights to distribute or otherwise transfer an application compiled with a Pre-Release version.

NVIDIA may choose not to make available a commercial version of any Pre-Release SOFTWARE. NVIDIA may also choose to abandon development and terminate the availability of a Pre-Release version at any time without liability.

3. THIRD PARTY SOFTWARE.

You acknowledge that the SOFTWARE may come bundled with, or otherwise include or be distributed with open source, freeware, or other software provided to NVIDIA under license from third parties ("Third Party Components"). Such software is provided to You subject to the terms and conditions that accompany and are applied to such Third Party Components by third parties, and may require notices and/or additional terms and conditions, which are made a part of and incorporated by reference into the SLA.
